Executive Summary

The present report D1.5 “Training needs assessment report” describes the process of training needs identification and assessment for three groups of actors involved in precision agriculture ecosystems in six countries: Greece, Spain, Italy, Bulgaria, Slovenia, Cyprus. Then, it offers a translation of these needs into training topics, and integrates these topics into training curricula. Hence, the report will facilitate the progress of the BOOST project, and especially the realization of the Tasks 2.2-2.4 that concern the development of these curricula.

The analysis performed in the samples of researchers, students and experts led to the identification of the most pressing training needs for the three categories. These training needs were translated into potential training topics for each partner-country.
